

Head of School Stallion Award

Eligibility:

The Stallion Award goes to one young man and one young lady in the graduating class who exemplify the following:

1. The Heart of a Stallion: Those who reflect Christ in their daily activities, do not choose to follow the crowd but to stand on principle and strive for excellence.
2. The Service of a Stallion: Those who understand that to whom much is given much is expected. These individuals actively pursue service opportunities in or out of school that benefit others.
3. The Perseverance of a Stallion: Those who understand the process of weathering adversity with grace, and take action to stand strong.
4. The Desire of a Stallion: Those who seize every opportunity to become: Boldly Christian. Unquestionably Academic.

Application Process:

Applications will be circulated via website, @theProv and Canvas. After reviewing the eligibility guidelines, applicants must complete the application and follow timelines and deadlines given. All of the elements of the application must be received in order for the application to be considered.

Once information submitted has been verified, all applications will be assigned a number and the student's name will be removed for the reviewing process. Applications will be reviewed and the top students will be interviewed by a panel of Providence administrators. The winners will be selected based upon their application and interview.

Awards:

One young man and one young lady will be selected on the basis of the application annually. The award is $1,000 each. This award will be paid in the form of a check issued to the recipient. It is the desire of Providence School to recognize students who have exemplified the mission of the school.
